The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: no prior art was found having limitations to a nut spread with the claimed ratios of ingredients or a nut spread containing at least 35% by weight on a non-fat basis of nut solids. The use of the two mixtures, one containing a non-fat nut solids protein mixture and a second mixture containing sugar and oil and a surfactant mixture allows the nut spread to support a higher nut solids level (specification, page 4, lines 21-23) than the closest reference to Meade (6,010,737), which does not use two mixtures containing the ingredients of 8(a) and (b), i. e. their sugar mixture does not contain any oil (col. 10, lines 30-40).
